May Day, May 3, Shire of Rosenfeld

Due to the coming thunderstorms Saturday night and Sunday morning, May Day at the McWhorter Park in Longview, Texas, was cancelled. Rainfall over the 24 hour period between 5:00 p.m. Saturday and 5:00 p.m. Sunday (falling pretty much between 12 midnight and 12 noon) was reported at 3.21 inches in Ardanroe and may have been the same or higher in Rosenfeld. This one-day gathering from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on the first Sunday of May will be looked for next year.

Spring Crown List, May 15-17, Shire of Wyrngeist

(Written by Rory ua Riada)

The Spring Crown List for the Kingdom of Gleann Abhann was hosted by the Shire of Wyrngeist at King's Arrow Ranch near Lumberton, Mississippi the third weekend of May. Twenty couples were accepted to compete in the tournament but only eighteen did on that fateful day. Those competing were:

A walk of the field was held Friday night for all participants in the tournament. On Saturday a fundraiser raffle of the stained glass piece that THL Pol Uto's team created at Art Wars based on a Canterbury Cathedral late 12th century border, was held for the Crown's Discretionary Fund. Mistress Rebecca with the Greyhound had the winning ticket, which was held for her by THL Cristina de Asturias. Each ticket was $2. Lunch was also a fundraiser being for the non-SCA allowed expenses for the GA Social at Gulf Wars 19 next year. It was prepared by THL Magdalena de Segovia.

The Gleann Abhann Metalsmith's Guild held a short, informal meeting at 8:00 a.m. in Bede Hall, while the Consort's Breakfast organized by Duchess Mary Grace, was held in the Green Dragon's Inn. The tournament was held in the fort. The finals were between Count Sir William FitzHugh de Cambria and Viscount Sir Rey Ribeumont. Count William was the victor becoming the ninth Prince and future King of Gleann Abhann.

As each entrant in the tournament had to enter or sponsor an artist's entry in an A&S competition, these were set up under a pavilion near the list field, coordinated by Mistress Jennet, Lady Gwen, and crew.

During the afternoon a Knights meeting was held, Seneschal's meeting was held, Kingdom Bardic and Poet Laureate competitions held, Order of the Diamond Chalice, Silver Lamp, and Aries meetings were also held. Following evening court feast was held inside the main hall. Attendance at the event numbered 249. The event steward was Lannon MacGillivray. The Shire of Ardanroe was represented by Mistress Sarah MacGregor, doing herald duties for the tourney, THL James en le Breres doing Silver Lamp and other guild work, THL Blaec le Dering competing in the tourney, Amelia, and Lady Branwen Brynglas, long absent from our sight.

Cracked Anvil XII, May 30, Shire of Smythkepe

(Written by Rory ua Riada)

This one-day event was held by the Shire of Smythkepe at the Franklin County Fairgrounds in Ozark, Arkansas on Saturday, May 30th, which was not Memorial Day weekend this year, but was the tradition Memorial Day Saturday. The theme was "Seafarers of the Middle Ages". Lady Bridget O'Fallon was Commodore (Event Steward), Lady Morin inghean Ruairc was chief cook, and Lady Quatarana la Petita handled the booking of passage (reservations). This was a one-day event, the site opening Saturday morning at eight o'clock. There were rapier and heavy weapons ship-themed battles, A&S entries, and many classes, some nautical in theme and others not. To our knowledge no one from Ardanroe attended this event.

FORTNIGHT

The Shire Populace Meeting was held on Wednesday, May 13, 2009 at the Aulds Branch Library in Bossier City. The meeting started at 7:15 and ended at 8:10 p.m. Dana ran the meeting as Seneschal. Nineteen adults (Dana, Tish, Lorccán, Amata, James, Avice, Symon, Melisant, Giric, Eibhlín, Heylen, Amelia, Avalina, Ebrahim, Johannes, Rory, Skallagrim, Jera, and Hesper) and one teen (Lil' Rob), and several children attended the meeting.

Dana went through the Kingdom calendar of events for the months of May, June, July, and August. Crown List is this coming weekend at the Gulf Wars site. A new event on the Kingdom online calendar is Loch Bais' Birthday Bash which will be a one-day event on June 13 at the Wesleyan Center by NSU in Natchitoches. The Loch Bais/Ardanroe bid for Kingdom Arts and Sciences was submitted by the Seneschal of Loch Bais.

Officer reports were then given.

Johannes as Knight Marshal reported no fighter practices officially occurring since before Gulf Wars. Tentatively next Saturday the 23rd he would like to have a fighter practice – place and time to be announced. Father Gilbert welcomes all to attend Loch Bais fighter practices Tuesday nights at the Wesleyan Center across from NSU.

Melisant as Minister of Arts and Sciences turned in her quarterly report. Discussion was held on what this month's A&S was to be – James has offered to teach stained glass and Rory' an autocrating class. Decision was made to have the two-part autocrating class now – part one at May's A&S night and part two as part of June's populace meeting. Then all bids for Winter Wonders based on the two-part class will be turned in to Dana. James' stained glass class will be held at the June A&S night.

Ebrahim as Historian has turned in the quarterly report and is finishing up the doomsday (annual) report.

Rory as Herald reported a very successful Name Research Night during April's A&S Night. Eibhlín's device and badge were submitted and are undergoing internal commentary at Kingdom. The first half of the Gulf Wars submissions became the first May LoI from Gleann Abhann. The second half probably will go up later this month. Skallagrim, Jera, and Lil' Rob are almost ready to submit names and armory after some consulting at the end of tonight's meeting.

Rory as Chronicler reported that the May issue of Ardanrunes was on the Shire website. Input was requested for the column "On This Day" focusing on SCA history (person, event, etc). Photos are also desired.

Lorccán as Web minister has put the new issue of the Ardanrunes up.

Amata as RUGA Provost reported that the judging of the RUGA Logo contest is going on with four entries.

James for Sarah as Exchequer reported receiving tonight the last check from the recycle center for donations made in 2008 as the recycle center closes its books.

The Constable and Chatelaine were not present.

Under Old Business, there was no action taken yet regarding a new shire trailer.

Under New Business, Avalina reported that Amata has a piece of artwork in the Red River Arts for Disabilities at the East Bank Gallery. This exhibit is up through July. Avalina and Ebrahim attended the opening reception last weekend put on by the Bossier Arts Council.

A table collapsed causing a 'break' in the meeting.

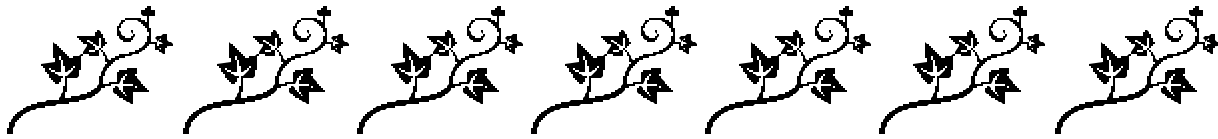

Heylen reported as Planning Coordinator of the Barksdale Octoberfest that the date would be either Friday, October 2nd or Friday, October 23rd, with leanings to the 23rd. There will be German band from Dallas, great food, games, and it would be a great recruiting opportunity for the SCA. She would like to see people in German/Viking outfits with a set up to either demo fighting or showcase the arts and such. Livestock may also be permissible. It would run from 3:00 – 10:00 p.m. The Air Show was last weekend but being all cement (runway) there was no good place for fighting, set up there, but lots of people! There will also be an International Festival in July at the Air Base, date not yet known; as another demo/recruiting possibility.

James presented the findings from his investigation of target archery. Becoming an archery/live weapons marshal take two years. Anyone interested in target archery is to e-mail James and make a good showing at the GA Live Weapons event in June.

Avice announced she had more free old fabric for anyone to take home.

Ebrahim distributed flyers of his 15x9 multi-room cabin tent of the Ozark Trails brand that is for sale.

The meeting was adjourned.

RUGA DEGREE REGALIA COMPETITION

A person/group can submit more than one entry. A person/group may submit an entry for one, two or all three honorary degrees.

The entries will be judged by the Kingdom A&S Officer, the RUGA Chancellor and any RUGA provosts that do not enter the competition.

The winning entry will be announced in September 2009.

LESSONS IN HERALDRY

Towards the end of May there was a good discussion about coloring armory submission forms and what to use for coloring these forms with. This month's column will follow up on that discussion and try to pull everything into one place.

Below is the actual "rule" with regards to the coloring of armory submission forms.

From the Administrative Handbook of the College of Arms of the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc. dated January 24, 2009, <http://heraldry.sca.org/heraldry/laurel/admin.html>

IV. General Procedures for Submissions

C. Completed Paperwork - No submission, including any resubmission, appeal, change or release of a protected item, etc., shall be considered for registration until a complete set of paperwork is provided to the appropriate heraldic officer. The numbers of sets of paperwork and the detailed format of the forms are governed by kingdom policy. However, completed paperwork must include all of the following materials relevant to the submission in question.

1. Submission Forms - All submissions must be on the forms currently approved by Laurel. Appropriate forms must be included for all submissions, including appeals, resubmissions, name changes, etc. Forms are not required for administrative actions, such as transfers, releases, and heraldic wills.

A minimum of two sets of name forms is required for all name submissions, one for the Laurel Office and the other to be maintained in kingdom files. A minimum of three sets of colored armory forms is required for all armory: two for the Laurel Office and the other to be maintained in kingdom files. The preferred medium for colored armory sets is watercolor markers in primary colors such as Crayola Classic Markers. Pastel or neon colors are inappropriate for colored armory forms. However the forms are colored, the submission may be returned if the tinctures are not recognizably heraldic tinctures. [Bolding by Rory for emphasis]

As seen, the Crayola Classic Markers are mentioned by name with the note that these classic markers be the primary colors, not pastel or neon. However, these are only mentioned as an example of the preferred medium (watercolor markers), not that Crayola Classic Markers are the only brand/type that could be used.

As Mistress Sarah MacGregor noted in the Shire's online discussion, there are some other brands that work.

From the SCA Heralds' List:

"Rose Art, Colorific, Color Gear, Scholastic, Colorations, e-color-gy, Pentel, Prang, Dixon, Sargent Art, Color Club, Mr. Sketch, Foohey, Faber-Castell, Color View, Ultra Color, Western Family, Star Wars by Animations, and Cars by SandyLion (both co-branded packs available in department stores and dollar stores). Of Crayola the good ones are Classic, Doodling and Click-Ons.

All those have true heraldic colors and good staying power.

Stay AWAY from:

Bic Magic Markers, Sharpie bullet tips, Marvy, Busykids, Disney by National Design, Princess by SandyLion, Bic Mark-It, Pentech, Color Theory, Crayola Twistables, and Crayola Flip-Top. Pens in this category either had colors that blurred the line between tinctures or lacked the ability to survive one year under normal handling conditions. One brand simply dried up in the box in a week, and so did its replacement set. Yes, two Crayola sets hit the 'bad idea' list. Their colors are not true and can cause confusion between tinctures."

If you have a particular heraldry question you would like answered in “Lessons in Heraldry”, please let me know! I may not know the answer but will try to find an answer that helps.

Maistir Rory

THE ARDANROE HERBARIUM

(THL Rovena of Bri Leith, Column Editor)

Garlic bulbs and individual cloves, one peeled (from the Wikipedia Commons)

GARLIC

Allium sativum L., commonly known as garlic, is a species in the onion family Alliaceae. Its close relatives include the onion, shallot, leek, and chive. It has a characteristic pungent, spicy flavor that mellows and sweetens considerably with cooking.

Most people think of garlic as a bulb that is divided into cloves though a single clove variety does exist. The only parts of the plant not normally used are the roots and the skin of the cloves. The various garlic species that originated all over the world are: Allium longicuspis – SW Asia; Allium ursinum, Allium vineale, and Allium oleraceum – British Isles; Allium vineale and Allium canadense – North America. Elephant garlic is a misnomer as it is actually a leek.

Garlic is easy to grow and relatively pest-free. It does suffer from pink-root so named because it causes the roots to turn pink.

The only known adverse effects of garlic include halitosis (nonbacterial bad breath), indigestion, nausea, emesis, and diarrhea. The other possible effects are drug interactions: warfarin, anti-platelets, saquinavir, anti-hypertensives, calcium channel blockers, and hypoglycemic drugs, as well as other medications. Prudence dictates that you consult a health professional before taking a garlic supplement or excessive amounts of garlic. Garlic, like onions, can be toxic to cats and dogs.

Modern medicinal uses include blood thinning similar to aspirin. Some claim it can lower cholesterol, blood pressure, atherosclerosis, and cancer. Recent British studies found garlic helpful against the common cold.

Historical medicinal use can be traced to the time of the Giza pyramids when the Egyptians used it both as a medicine and a food. It is mentioned in the Old Testament. It was consumed by ancient Greek and Roman soldiers, sailors, and rural classes. Galan praised garlic as a rustic cure-all. It appears in the Sanskrit medical treatise as well as the Buddhists 4th century CE text (Navanitaka). In Ayurvedic medicine, garlic is believed to have 5 of the 6 tastes. Alexander Neckam, a writer of the 12th century, recommended it as a palliative for the sun heat in field labor. The Cherokee also used it as an expectorant for coughs and croup. Louis Pasteur, in 1858, observed garlic's antibacterial activity. Garlic was used as an antiseptic to prevent gangrene during World War I and World War II.

Garlic is widely used around the world for its pungent flavor as a seasoning or condiment. It is a fundamental component in many or most dishes of various regions, including Asia, the Middle East, northern Africa, southern Europe, and parts of South and Central America. Depending on the cooking method, the flavor varies in intensity and aroma. Common pairings include onion, tomato, or ginger. Black garlic, popular in Korea and Japan, is made by fermenting the garlic heads at high temperature producing a sweet and syrupy taste. Garlic flavored oils are currently popular. Homemade oils run the risk of botulism due to improper storage. Commercial oils use additives to overcome this problem. Pickled garlic is a popular appetizer in Eastern Europe. Garlic was rare in British cooking until the 20th century.

Garlic was believed to be a stimulant capable of arousing the passions. It was for that reason that garlic was forbidden to monks and to those who were fasting, especially widows and teens. This may be the reason that it was avoid as a food by Buddhists, Jains, high-born Hindus, and Brahmins. Garlic, ginger, and onion came into vogue with the spread of Islam.

Garlic was used as a protective charm in medieval Europe. In Central Europe, it was used against demons, werewolves, and vampires. According to the Taoists, garlic would intensify the chi prefers to the point of immortality.

The word garlic comes from Old English garleac, meaning "spear leek". Egyptians worshipped garlic and placed clay models of garlic bulbs in the tomb of Tutankhamen. Garlic was so highly-prized; it was even used as currency. Garlic was placed by the ancient Greeks on the piles of stones at crossroads, as a supper for Hecate; and according to Pliny, garlic and onions were invoked as deities by the Egyptians at the taking of oaths. In the Middle Ages, it was thought that hanging garlic bulbs on doors would check the spread of diseases such as smallpox.

ON THIS DAY

Last month was a big statistical hodge-podge of reign counts. The Spring Crown List of Their Royal Majesties Loric and Diana have been held and their Heirs are now known. Let us conclude this statistical walk of fun with a look at Gleann Abhann – Crown having had four years of Crown Tournaments from May 2005 to May 2009, and see what those four years have changed to Crown reign and overall reign counts under Gleann Abhann and Multiple Kingdoms.

Gleann Abhann – Crowns

The Spring Crown List held May 16 AS XLIV (2009) identified Count William FitzHugh de Cambria (called Camric) and Countess Onóra inghean mhic Catháin as the ninth couple who would reign as Crown of Gleann

Abhann. To date every Gleann Abhann Crown has been a married couple. In fact the first couple was expecting a baby at the time of Crown List and the second couple was expecting twins. The populace was wickedly pondering a tradition that the winning couple had to be expecting, and oh, if the number of children had equaled the reign. Had this coincidence continued past the second reign that would have made Queen Diana the Octo-mom!

To date six couples have reigned as Crown of Gleann Abhann, and only one couple has reigned multiple times, being three. The one couple who has reigned more than once in Gleann Abhann, but has also reigned in another Kingdom, is Duke Havordh and Duchess Mary Grace. However, we now have heirs who will start their second reign as Crown of Gleann Abhann in October. Of the six couples, three have received Counties and three have received Duchies, and none of the couples have received both the County and Duchy for only reigning in Gleann Abhann. However, this will now change. Prince William and Princess Onóra will become the first couple to receive a completely Gleann Abhann Duchy, having received their County for their first reign as Crowns of Gleann Abhann, and now being named heirs from the May 16 tournament to reign a second time in Gleann Abhann.

Three of the couples to serve as Crown of Gleann Abhann have also reigned as Prince and Princess of the Principality of Gleann Abhann. As a neat historical note, William reigned twice as the sixth and thirteenth Prince of the Principality of Gleann Abhann, and his first reign as King of Gleann Abhann was as the sixth Crown. The number six will be his number in a special way.

Gleann Abhann: Reigns as Crown

3 Reigns

Havordh Ættarbani – 2, 4, 7

Mary Grace of Gatland – 2, 4, 7

2 Reigns

William FitzHugh de Cambria – 6, 9

Onóra inghean mhic Catháin – 6, 9

Multi-Kingdoms

With four years of Gleann Abhann Crown Lists held three couples have received Duchies for reigning in Gleann Abhann as their second reign as Crown in the SCA. Two of these couples had their first reign in Meridies and one Atlantia. One couple served first as the second Warlord and Lady of Gleann Abhann, and then became the 38th Crown of Meridies and later the 3rd Crown of Gleann Abhann. One couple served as the 11th Prince and Princess of the Principality of Gleann Abhann, then as the 47th Crown of Meridies and later as the first Crown of Gleann Abhann. And one couple has reigned the most times in Gleann Abhann, but started as 41st Crown of Atlantia.

Reigns as Crowns from Multiple Kingdoms

4 Reigns

Havordh Ættarbani – 41 Atlantia, 2, 4, 7 Gleann Abhann

Mary Grace of Gatland – 41 Atlantia, 2, 4, 7 Gleann Abhann Havordh

2 Reigns

Tar Radu – 47 Meridies, 1 Gleann Abhann

Broinnfinn inghean uí Chatháin – 47 Meridies, 1 Gleann Abhann Radu

Padruig Dubhchlogad – 38 Meridies, 3 Gleann Abhann
